

Quorn House Cricket Club
Book of appreciation belonging to William Farnham, 1888

Dear Sir,

We the undersigned being the Committee and Officers of the QUORN HOUSE CRICKET CLUB on behalf of ourselves and the Members whose names and addresses are inscribed within, beg most respectfully and cordially to tender you our warmest thanks for the excellent Cricket Ground recently made by you in the Park, and at the same time to express our unbounded admiration for the magnificent liberality which has

QUORN HOUSE

pervaded every act of yours in connection with the Club since its formation two years ago.

At that time a deputation consisting of Messrs Firr & White waited upon you and explained the difficulties which beset the path of the Executive of the then existing Cricket Club, when with that willingness to help in all matters connected with the welfare of the Parish, which has been such a distinguishing feature of your character, you most generously consented to provide a ground, and formed the present Club, which, with its commodious Pavilion, Bowlers and an ample supply of the necessary Cricketing materials provided at your own expense, together with the picturesque scenery of its grounds, has become the envy and admiration of the cricketing community.

Under such conditions and with such distinguished patronage and support we trust that the earnest endeavour of every member will be, both in the field and out of it, to maintain the prestige and reputation which during its brief existence the Club has already achieved, and to establish such an 'Esprit de Corps' among its Members that it may always rank as second to none among the Clubs in the County.

We should like to have referred to other equally important acts of beneficence which are, and will for many years remain as striking evidences of your generosity, but the prescribed limits of this address must necessarily be confined to cricket. We sincerely hope that no act or omission of ours will ever cause you to regret the founding of the
