PARISH NOTES.

On June 27th, Henry Hunn Rumsey, the Vicar of the Parish, was married to Lilian, the youngest daughter of the late Samuel Riley and of Mrs. Riley. The Rev. F C. Woodhouse, Curate in charge of All Saints, Kettering, performed the marriage service, and he was assisted by the Rev. F J. Rumsey, brother of the Bridegroom. The full choir attended and Hymns 209 and 578 were sung. The Rev. A. E. A. Jones, Assistant Curate of Kettering, celebrated the Holy Communion.

The Vicar and Mrs. Rumsey are away until July the 21st. They wish to thank most warmly all who contributed so generously to the wedding present. With a sum of £21 18s. od. at their disposal they purchased a Grandfather clock, and an oak bureau, both of them old, handsome, valuable and useful possessions. After the purchase of these there was still £4 8s. od. left; with this some silver cruets and brass inscriptions concluded the list of presents. There was a formal presentation made at the Vicarage on Monday evening, June 26th. There were many others in the parish who gave us presents, and we have an idea that these, together with all who gave towards the parish present, would like to see them all. We shall be pleased therefore to welcome all who will come to the Vicarage on Monday evening, July the 24th, from 7.30 to 9.0, or on Tuesday afternoon, July the 25th, from 2.30—4 o'clock.

The Coronation festivities passed off most happily. At the 8.0 celebration there were 22 communicants. The Church was not crowded at the service at 11.30, but a large number of those who had received invitations to represent the various public bodies were present, and the congregation was a thoroughly representative one. A description of the the service which was actually taking place in Westminster Abbey at the time was read, and formed a most edifying part of the service. The anthem was taken from the 33rd Psalm, vv. 1, 12-15, 17 21. Great trouble had been taken by Mr. C. K. White in the training of the choir, and the anthem was well sung.

The jollifications in the Rawlins School field were of course a village and not a Church affair, but there is no reason we think why we should not put on record in this magazine some account of them. At 1.0 o'clock the children assembled in the National School and each one was given a medal. A very gay procession was then formed up, and led by the band of the Vulcan Works from Leicester, marched round the village. At the Cross a halt was made for the singing of the National Anthem. The Rawlins field was reached punctually at 2.0. Many of the children had decked themselves out to represent various characters, and when they had been carefully judged, and a photograph taken, sports were soon in full swing. At 4.0 the children under 9 went to the Schools for tea, and those from 9 to 14 to the Village Hall. The tea was a sumptuous one, and included a plate of strawberries for each child, and a bag of sweets. The sports were continued after tea. The prizes were distributed at 8.0, and at dusk there was a display of fireworks. It was a great day for the children, and will long be remembered by them. With the exception of a short shower the weather was delightful; a cool breeze kept off the heat, and blew the bunting about merrily. A large committee, consisting of all sorts and conditions of men and women organised the proceedings, and all worked hard, but no one will grudge it being said that the success of the day was due almost entirely to the persevering efforts of Mr. Adams, the Secretary.

A great discussion on "Why men do not go to Church" was raised at the C.E.M.S. meeting on June 13th, by Mr. Nevitt. Twelve members took part. The rendering of the Psalms came in for a good deal of criticism, and the gabbling of them was suggested as a possible deterrent; there was a good deal said too about the lack of work found for men to do. The meeting closed at 9.40.

An outing for the C.E.M.S. members and their lady friends will be held on Saturday, July 15th. The destination is the Monastery. Names of those intending to go should be given in to the Secretary as soon as possible; he will provide particulars.

The Society has undertaken to organise an open air service on Wake Sunday, at 3.0 p.m. We hope that careful steps will be taken to make this service a success.

Between 50 and 60 men attended a Men's Service on Sunday, June the 25th, at 3.30. The Rev. W. A. King was the preacher. His text was, "What think ye of Christ? Whose Son is He?" He pleaded for a more thoughtful consideration of the Doctrines aspect of our religion.

MY DEAR FRIEND,

This must let you know that I am very well here, and hope that you are the same.

The first thing to tell you is that we passed our Christmas Day and New Year very happily. I hope that you did also. I thank God that He has let me see the year 1911. Our presents were given on January 6th, and we were very happy on that day. Our school was decorated with flowers and paper, and looked very pretty. I got a doll for a present and was very pleased with it. There are 8 girls in my class. I have a friend whose name is Ruth, but she is blind. I did not know that I had a friend in England, but miss-sahiba said to me that I must write a letter to my friend. I was very glad at hearing that I had a friend. I could not know that you were my friends because you have never written me a letter, I should be so pleased to have an answer to this.

Please would you send me your photograph. Now I must finish this letter. Many salaams and much love from the writer of this letter.

SOSTORIA SING.

The children who help to support Chestori Singh will be pleased to read this letter from her. The letter was of course written in her own language and has been translated for her into English. We hope some of the children will take notice of what she asks for, and when the Vicar comes back he will be glad to hear of any who will write to her or send her a Photograph or a Picture Post Card.

Miss Adams vacates her post as Head Mistress of the Infants' School on June 30th. She will be much missed by the little ones, who can hardly believe that she is really going. We hope to be able to announce later on the happy event which causes her departure. Miss Burrows has been appointed to succeed Miss Adams. The Managers gladly recommended to the County Education Authority the appointment of one who lives in the village, and whom they know and can trust.

Miss Maude Moore has left the Infants' School to take a post at Birmingham. We congratulate her on her appointment, but we are sorry to be losing a very bright and cheerful teacher. We are glad to welcome Miss Mabel Gamble back to the Infant Department.

Whit-Monday was a great day for the C.L. We joined the rest of the Leicestershire Battalion 23 strong, at Bardon Park. It was a gloriously fine hot day. The morning was spent in Inspection and the afternoon in Sports. The latter chiefly remained in our memory, for we carried the "Faire" Cup home in triumph, having won by a big margin the biggest number of marks for the Sports. Sam Davis won the Boot Race, Donkey Race, $\frac{1}{4}$ -mile Race, Relay Race; Colin Beardmore, Boot Race 2nd, Donkey Race, Relay Race; Herbert Rennocks, 100 Yards Relay Race; Harold Beardmore, Relay Race.

It ought not to be necessary to complain of the behaviour in the Churchyard. On three consecutive Sundays the flowers were taken from a certain grave and from another ribbon was stolen. If this is not actual sacrilege, it is a disgraceful violation of the sacred feelings of those mourners who show respect to their departed by adorning their graves. We hope that these words will come under the eyes of the offenders, and that they will feel thoroughly ashamed of themselves.

PARISH NOTES.

There is little to record for the past month, so we will take the opportunity to be brief.

Our Patronal Festival, S. Bartholomew's Day, falls on Thursday, Aug. 24th. There will be Holy Communion at 7.0 and 8.0, and Choral Evensong with Sermon at 8.0. It should be a time of thanks giving for our Church and the blessings connected with it, and should be observed either on the day itself or on the following Sunday.

The C.E.M.S. together with friends, amounting to 20, had a most enjoyable outing to Whitwick on Saturday, the 15th.

Seventeen lads of the C.L.B. will go to camp at Skegness on Friday evening, August 4th. This is a good advance on last year's number. We are sorry the Captain and Chaplain are unable to go, but they hope to pay a flying visit on one of the days.

Will the Mothers' Meeting come to the Vicarage Garden on Monday afternoon, August the 14th, at 2.30, to make arrangements for their Annual Outing?

The Vicar and Mrs. Rumsey wish to thank the Bell Ringers for so kindly ringing them home from their honeymoon. It was a great pleasure to them to welcome such a large number of friends to see the presents.

We congratulate Miss Georgiana May Adams on her marriage to Mr. Archibald Henry Cox, which took place on Saturday, July the 29th. Everybody, and specially the little ones, will wish them every happiness in their new home.

PARISH NOTES.

It has been said that "Life would be very tolerable without its amusements." This implies that we take our pleasures sadly. Which no doubt is often the case. But fortunately not always. And perhaps the young and the elderly, the two extremes, are the best exceptions. They know the secret of enjoyment. And it is worth knowing.

On a perfect August morning, an hour before the sun was up, and a low mist lying over the fields, the Choir boys were astir. At 4.20 with the Vicar and Mr. Percy Moore we entrained at the Central Station bound for Scarborough. And why Scarborough? Because when you go out for a day it is best to go as far away as you possibly can, and prolong to the very best advantage the opportunity of inhaling the invigorating air of a railway carriage. This is a maxim that is never forgotten by the Choir boys in choosing the destination of a day's outing.

We had not booked carriages, but we were fortunate in securing two to ourselves, and if at any station there was danger of intrusion, we massed our selves together at the windows and made faces at anxious searchers for seats; that was enough for them, and our peace was secured. Only on the first part of our return journey did we suffer intrusion. A prim old lady, bound for York, was hustled into us by a friendly porter. We eyed her with suspicion at first, but soon our heads found what resting place the carriage and one another's shoulders afforded, and we were fast asleep. The old lady however did not suffer herself to be entirely forgotten. The train drew up, as excursions do, at no halting place, and for no obvious reason; darkness reigned, except for a full moon that hung in splendour slightly above the horizon to the south; the country side lay around us wrapt in the stillness of sleep; and then a shrill voice broke the silence: "Young man, is this York? young man, is this York?" The young man was certainly the second biggest of the trebles, but he was too sound asleep to realise the dignity of this address; only when it had been reiterated, did he slowly drive the dustman from his eyes and gape. How could it be York! Yorkshire it certainly was, with its broad acres all around us. But York! So we smiled politely and were soon asleep again.

We were at Scarborough from 9.0 a.m. till 9.0 p.m., and we voted it a splendid place, and the outing the best we had ever had. The weather was the best that even this wonderful summer could give us. We gave a heavy day to ponies and donkeys. Down to the smallest boy, and he is a wee one, we swarmed into bathing machines, tumbled about in the surf, and suffered no head to remain unducked. We chartered the greater part of a tram car and had a long ride to the north bay after dinner, according to the principle on this occasion a very obvious one, "after dinner rest awhile." The catering was supreme, and a fatherly waiter replenished our plates, not once nor twice, with keen enjoyment. We tumbled out at Quorn at 2.45 a.m. the following day, all swollen with satisfaction and pride that we had made a 24 hours day of it. For the benefit of those who contributed to the outing, a balance sheet is appended.

The Mothers' Meeting assembled on the Vicarage Lawn on August the 14th, and with the help of a cup of tea brewed from a giant copper kettle, with whose history they were acquainted, discussed their outing. The attraction of a city with dark and slippery dungeons which last year beguiled us was discarded. A country drive was voted for instead. So on a somewhat humid but pleasant day in the following week we boarded three of Mr. Barwell's brakes, and his noble steeds carried us over hill and dale to the Spring Hill Farm near to the Monastery. We were 25 in number, with a baby or two thrown in. There was a good tea ready for us at the Farm. So when we had raised our appetites on the swings hard by, and if you have never seen mothers of all ages and dimensions making swing trappings to creak and groan you have missed something, we cleared the board of the good things our hostess had provided. We had an hour left to wander over the heathery hill side, admire its beauties, and discuss the smoky country lying at our feet. By 6 o'clock we were on the road again. To relieve the horses we sauntered along some part of the road, and ate red blackberries, but on the whole we made a good pace by way of Shepshed and Loughborough back home, with no casualties of any kind, purring satisfaction with the good things we had enjoyed.

And now for the C.L.B. and their week in camp. The writer cannot enlarge upon this in detail, for this year he stopped at home from the wars. But the 16 lads whom we sent agreed that they had all had a great time, though perhaps the work was rather harder than last year. A flying visit certainly found them bronzed and fit. Rumour has it that some of them were complimented on their smartness. But there is one certain cause for congratulation. For the second year in succession a Quorn Sergeant was chosen to be one of the two brigade markers for the battalion. Last year the distinction fell to Sergeant W. Moore, and this year to Sergeant H. Beardmore. This is an honour that all the Company should appreciate. We hope that the lads have brought away from camp higher ideals of devotion, from the life of discipline, and from the services and corporate communion which form so great a feature of the arrangements. We hope too that the camp will give an impetus to the activities of our Company during the coming winter. The next parade will be in the Village Hall, on Friday, Sept. the 8th. Captain Seal hopes that there will be a full turn up. Any recruits too will be gladly welcomed.

While we hesitate to multiply parochial organisations, we are very anxious that there should be some definite and sustained effort on behalf of Foreign Missions. There is a Guild known as the "Guild of St. Augustine," its aims and methods are similar to those of the S.P.G., and it works in conjunction with that society. Mr. Murray Rumsey is particularly interested in this Guild, and will gladly act as Secretary if we can see our way to forming a branch. There must be a good many in the parish who would welcome some such opportunity of definitely associating themselves with Foreign Missions. A meeting will be held in the School, to which all such are invited, to discuss the matter, on Thursday, Sept. 21st, at 8-0

Subscribers to the Clothing Club will remember that at the last meeting it was resolved to discuss at a later date some matter of importance connected with the club. A meeting of the subscribers will be held for this purpose on Monday, Sept 25th, at the Vicarage, at 12-0.

On Wake Sunday, an Open-Air Service will be held at 3 o'clock, near the Co-operative Groceries Stores. This Service has been arranged on the initiation of the C.E.M.S., whose members we hope will try to make it a success. We are asking the Choir and all the Officers to attend. Will they please, as well as the rest of the Congregation, assemble in Church, at 2-45.

The C.E.M.S. Committee will meet on September the 4th, to make arrangements for a winter programme.

Mr. Seal's Bible Class will re-open on Sunday, September the 17th. It is hoped that members who have been slack in their attendance will make a new start.

We regret that Mrs. J. Clarke has resigned her position as Head of the Young Women's Bible Class after two years of most conscientious work. Mrs. Rumsey has taken her place. The Sunday School authorities are not including these two Bible Classes in the Sunday School Treat this year, but are hoping to fix a Social Gathering for them later in the year.

Two of our Sunday School teachers have entered the Holy Estate of Matrimony during the past month. Mr. Sidney Platts was married to Miss Julia Grocock, and Mr. Robert Bancroft to Miss Kate Clarke, on August 5th. We offer to both couples our congratulations and best wishes for their happiness,

Miss Amy Thornton, who is the Local Honorary Secretary for the Church of England Waifs and Strays Society, has received the following Subscriptions for this year. She wishes to thank all those who have shewn their continued interest in this good work, and to say that she has several "penny per week" boxes to dispose of on application.
